

WEINGUT JOSEF FRITZ

2017
Riesling
Ried Steinberg
Reserve
DRY

The smell is dominated by aromas of candied peaches and nectarines. The taste reflects the clear fruit underlined by fine mineral lines. A Riesling with a lot of temperament and excellent length on the finish.

Ried Steinberg

Ried Steinberg is one of the largest, but also one of the best locations in Wagram.

Josef Fritz: „For me, it's the ideal location for Roter Veltliner: dry and hot, just what this indigenous variety needs. Nowhere else does it thrive as well and as healthily as here.“

The name comes from the stony sandy soil, which alternates with loess here. At the foot of the mountain, loess dominates and merges further up into sandy loess over a stony subsoil. Tertiary gravel dominates at the top, almost 370 metres above sea level. Steinberg is one of the very highest sites in Wagram.
